

Introducing
JEDIDIAH FRAZIER
Dr. Charles L. Sifford Staff Instructor

ABOUT JEDIDIAH

Jedidiah Frazier picked up a golf club in Harlowe, North Carolina, shortly after he learned to walk. He spent countless days on the course with his father, helping around the clubhouse and competing in junior tournaments from an early age.

His competitive career took off as part of Havelock Middle School's first golf team, where he earned MVP and All-Conference honors. He continued that success through four years of varsity golf in high school before signing with Fayetteville State University. There, he earned multiple honors including MVP, First Team All-Conference, a conference championship, and a Minority National Championship. Since joining the Carolinas PGA Section in 2021, Jedidiah has recorded eight professional victories.

Passionate about growing the game, Jedidiah has coached golfers of all ages through programs like First Tee of Eastern North Carolina and at several golf facilities. He is excited to bring his playing experience and teaching expertise to Charles Sifford Golf Course, helping golfers improve both on and off the course.
